From wet lab work, bioinformatics, and field work, to problem solving and working with a team, you will practice the skills every researcher needs.

Dive into bioinformatics, genetics, and genomics and gain valuable research experience. Follow your scientific interests!

Meet with professors, graduate students, and departments to find the people and places that fit best for you.

Learn to communicate your professional identity through informational interviews, resume workshopping, and presentation practice.

A summer of fun! Explore the University of Tennessee, restaurants, wildlife areas, and the Smoky Mountains nearby.

For more information, visit https://reeu.tennessee.edu/